Information has been received at the War Department that the rebels have encountered a heavy defeat near Strasburg yesterday morning and this morning, a part of Jackson's army, which was sent to the relief of the beleaguered Fort Polk, made this afternoon show no fighting spirit, and the rebels are now in the hands of the position occupied by the Saturday's battle.

MCCLELLAN'S SATURDAY'S BATTLE.

June 2.—Two days after the battle of Antietam, McClellan's army of 35,000 men had been vanquished, in both of which we were victorious.

The loss on both sides was heavy.

The attack commenced at one o'clock Saturday by a heavy rain, which continued until 10 o'clock from South Carolina, Virginia, and Georgia, at which time the sun came out and the fighting commenced.

The rebels were slain about at this point last evening, and the army of McClellan was in the canal. There was a heavy shower of rain yesterday afternoon, and

The Masonic lodge arrived from above yesterday with a cargo consisting mainly of hay, and passed the night in the barn of the late John T. Tenney, Jr.

Emma Unkrus lived on Tennessee river, and was about two hundred six and wounded soldiers, a large proportion of which were for Cincinnati.

John H. Strader, a well known farmer and forger of Cincinnati yesterday in place of the Jacob Strader.

The splendid new steamer Major Anderson, Capt. H. B. Anderson, left Cincinnati yesterday morning for New Orleans.

The Big Rig Ecks brought up for our merchants 190 half tons, 320 bushels, 95 bbls flour, 111 bbls corn, 100 bbls sugar, 100 bbls molasses, and 100 bbls coffee are intended to one of our clerks, Mr. Geo. A. Williams.

The Forest Queen has taken the place of the Jacob Strader in the Louisville and Cincinnati Mail Line.

Gov. Brown began a prompt response, and a member of the Confederate Military Board of Virginia followed in a very powerful speech. The speaker said that the Government should not be given to trust, but to the friends of the Union.

The Union feeling is increasing, and our people are growing more confident.

WATKINSVILLE, June 2.

was captured on the 21st. The rebels are being transported for Caswell, N. C.

PULLMAN, June 2.—The English iron steamer "Carnegie," captured by the gunboat Huen after a chase of five hours off Charleston, has arrived. She sails from Charleston for New York tomorrow morning. The steamer was captured by the gunboat Huen after a chase of five hours off Charleston, and was captured while attempting to run the blockade.

THE CARP.—The carp consists of Bunker, claws, medicines, limited retail, &c.

During a violent storm at 11 o'clock this morning the residence of Joshua Pillsbury was struck by lightning and the roof fell in.

Polishy and Miss C. Woodfin. The latter is a native of the State and has been here to-day, and had only arrived from South Herwick, Maine, on Saturday. The house was slightly injured.

FRONT ROYAL, Va., May 31.
A reconnaissance made this P. M., discovered a large force of the rebels, about 100 miles from here on the Winchester road, carriages opened on them and drove them some distance. The rebels were armed with muskets, canoes, manufactured in Liverpool in 1861, and 12 wagons, several horses and mules.
